The police are finally doing their job in Windsor.

They will go slow and do everything to avoid violence but it appears they didn't actually need to offer terms and concessions to the protesters

From COS mendicino: Update from my dm:

ON sent a letter to the OPP Commissioner late last night, which was physically shared with protestors. The letter was signed by Minister Jones and committed to a meeting with protestors at a time and place of her choosing. There were no other conditions. Owing to the late hour, the letter did not have
